The bombarding and fighting that are of almost daily occurrence here, in many instances, greatly exaggerate the seriousness of the situation. In fact, he says some of the battles are almost humorous. For instance, he says, he never felt in his life that he was expected to go right on preaching without fear of the consequences. He says that he is the best of the new to his multitude of friends, who wait him and his estimable wife welcomed wherever they may be invited. I am sorry that he made anything at all of his first visit to the home of the late Mrs. Frank H. Smith, who was exceedingly glad to know that he has recovered from his comparatively recent ailments and that he is now enjoying such robust health.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE—Rev. S. C. Glenn, presiding officer of Troy Methodist, will preach at the Elba Methodist Church Sunday morning, September 7, at 11 o'clock and will hold forth quarterly conference in the afternoon. The fourth quarterly conference of a Methodist Church is an unusual thing, and it is the last of one preceding annual conference, when the year's finances must be closed up in the afternoon. An invitation is extended to everybody to come out and hear Rev. Glenn.

STEADY JOB—For the past several months, John Kunkin, who has been jumping about from one station to another, being first man on the Atlantic Coast, then a telegraph operator, but his jumping about has come to a stop. He has been assigned a regular job at Laverne, and as such an available living quarter can be obtained. It seems that John Kunkin is a man who is similar to that existing in Elba, ecclesiastical scene. Mr. and Mrs. Kunkin's departure from Elba will be missed in a number of the most accomplished. John is recognized as one of the best of the best posted football referees in this section. There are only two other referees in the section, and John is serving as John's and under the expert tutelage of Agent Almon Strain, is taking to the Elba status as a duck take to water.

GETTING RIGID—Station Agent Almon Strain recently received a letter from an aged colored woman in New York City, who wrote to "Whoever It May Concern" the Elba, Ala. The letter contained a two-dollar bill and stated that the sender was a train conductor for 25 years ago and saw the conductor drop a $2 bill on the floor, which he picked up and kept. He said nothing about it at all these years, writes that she wants to get right with God and make restitution as above stated. The station agent would be more than willing to hand the old colored woman's receipt and "right" to her.

ANOTHER OLD BIT—Almost as unusual as the preceding letter was the one received the other day from a colored man in New York City, who wrote to "Whoever It May Concern" the Elba, Ala. The letter contained a two-dollar bill and stated that the sender was a train conductor for 25 years ago and saw the conductor drop a $2 bill on the floor, which he picked up and kept. He said nothing about it at all these years, writes that she wants to get right with God and make restitution as above stated. The station agent would be more than willing to hand the old colored woman's receipt and "right" to her.

SPANISH BATTLES—Letters received by Dr. W. R. from his son, Prude, who is on the battleship Quincy, located in Spanish waters, engaged in the battle of the States citizens from that stricken country give interesting information about the situation. Prude writes to his father, "I am in a safe position and will see the best of it."

HIGH PRIZE MEETING—The Elba High Prize Meeting, which has been recently turned down, has a wealth of interesting history. A number of the prominent citizens were married within its walls. Judge and Mrs. J. A. Carley are among the number. Another important wedding ceremony performed there was a double wedding when Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Whitman and Mrs. Bertie Patrick walked into the church and were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

BANK DIVIDENDS—Thos. A. Dixon, receiver, announces that the September dividend of the First National Bank of Elba will be paid to those who have filed approved claims. The bank closed its doors in 1929, and the receiver has been in charge of the liquidation of the bank. The dividend is $1.00 per share.

COOL WEATHER—Following refreshing showers, a cool wave has swept over the Elba section. The weather is now in the 70's and 80's, which is a relief from the heat of the past few days.

COTTON GINNING—Cotton gins all over South Alabama are running day and night, grinding out the staple. The weather has been favorable for the past week, and the bright sun has caused the bolls to pop open rapidly. The cotton is now being ginned so fast in Elba, which is estimated to be approximately 40 per cent of what will be ginned here this season. It is estimated that the cotton will be ginned here this season.

PEANUT CROP—The peanut crop continues to give promise of one of the largest and finest crops in the history of the Elba section. The crop is now in the hands of the growers, and the weather is favorable for the crop. The crop is now in the hands of the growers, and the weather is favorable for the crop.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER

WHAT HOOKWORM DISEASE MEANS TO COFFEE CULTIVATORS
Whenever hookworm disease is mentioned we usually think of it as a disease which affects only a few poverty-stricken persons so distantly removed from us as to cause us very little concern—only pity. Our false sense of security and disinterest may be easily dispelled when we remember that hookworm disease is not merely a few of us have hookworm disease, but that it is widespread among the people of Coffee County. Sixty-two per cent of the school children were examined by your County Health Officer last Spring were found to have hookworms. It does not require much thought to realize that this is indeed a serious problem to which many ways to each and every one of us.

Government Reports Sharp Decline In 1936 Cotton Crop; Price Of Staple Takes Hike

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—Cotton moved upward nearly three dollars a bale when trading resumed after one of the most surprisingly bullish crop estimates in years. Staging a major upset in cotton crop expectations, the government figure of 11,121,000 bales, compared with 11,600,000 bales, was announced today. The estimate was a surprise to many who had expected a decline in the crop. The estimate was a surprise to many who had expected a decline in the crop.

The appeals made for financial assistance, a movement was made to have app coupons and make other donations. The club members held similar services at the Schoolhouse and Liberty Methodist Church. The people were very liberal donations were made at both places.

GOOD YIELD.—C. S. Smith reports that he has gained 32 bushels of cotton and has at least four more bales in the field, grown on 100 measured acres. After the storm, Mr. Smith estimated the yield at 40 bales. The next day after the storm, he set the estimate at 32 bales. Mr. Smith was well pleased with his cotton yield.

UNLUCKY BILL.—While returning from Montgomery Sunday afternoon, J. D. Smith and Dr. W. C. Henshaw had a thrilling race. At a point about four miles south of Troy, they ran into a heavy rainstorm. As they came over the crest of a hill, a truck driven by a negro suddenly stopped just in front of them, without giving any warning. The truck was stuck in the mud. The two doctors were meeting another car, but the delivery truck, says there was no rain, he could go to avoid crashing into the car. The truck was stuck, so he jammed on his brakes so suddenly that the truck turned over. The driver was killed. Mr. Smith says he heard the driver was killed. The truck was stuck in the mud, and the driver was killed.
